TO THE R E A D E R.

WE may well begin our Epistle
Jam satis terris, nivis atq; diræ Grandinis, misit Pater.

Thus wrote Horace a Poet, though mean in Fortune, yet most rich and sententious throughout his whole works.

The English Nation remembers we have had a fearful Plague; to second it, a dreadful Fire in her Metropolis, viz. London, an almost three years War; heavy judgments if well considered, all happening one as it were in the neck of another: All which by the merciful providence of a gracious God, are now past, and the three Nations of England, Scotland, and Ireland, under the Government of his Excellent Majesty, in internal and external peace; herein we include not differences of judgment in spiritual things, God is able to compose what is remaining in that kind.

Let us sin no more lest worse things come upon us hereafter: Heaven defend us from sparing, lean Harvests, from Rots of Sheep, the Murrain or Pestilence amongst our greater Cattle.

The Astrological Judgments which we now publish in the ensuing Discourse, are generally intended as well for those Nations near our Climate, as for England: where we only intend England, there we mention its name: Homerus non vidit omnia. We have with great moderation and integrity of mind delivered the genuine sense and proper signification of the two Positions of Heaven we treat of, and also well

To the Reader.

possessed the significant Aphorisms of the most refined Astrologers of late and former Ages, and aptly applied them, according to the natural sense and true intention thereof, unto the present matter in hand. We might have been copious concerning the honourable City of London's Restauration, and have given our judgment upon the position of Heaven erected for that moment, when his most gracious Majesty Charles the Second laid the first stone towards its Rebuilding or Restauration: but sith long before that time there were other foundations laid in Cheap-side, the principal Street of the City, we may not singly confide in that Figure of the Exchange, without comparing one with another: In a matter of that moment and weight, which requires so full consideration, there are and will be many intricate enquiries, curiosities, and niceties, of which the questionnaire Astrologer is wholly unacquainted with: neither have we amongst the Writings of the Ancients any thing memorable upon any one Citys foundation in the World: we must therefore frame our own method in direction of years, viz. how to measure the time of succeeding Accidents, good or evil, whether of Plague, Pestilence, War, Tumults, Scarcity, increase of Fortune, Honour, Trade; decrease, ebbs, and flowings, &c. We must consider the former Radix of the City, before its last fire (there being parts, but not the whole, consumed: ) for this last dreadful Fire may well be compared, unto a violent hot burning Feaver assaulting a man, of which he, by benefit of Physick, recovers and dyeth not, the body of the man still remaining.—we mention this as a direction unto any that will studiously endeavour to write something of this subject, viz. the Citys Restauration and its continuance according to Natural Causes.

Astrological Judgments

For the Year 1669.

By William Lilly, Student in Astrology.

THE late differences betwixt Spain and France, being seemingly, but not fully or certainly adjusted in the year 1668. may give occasion of further Debates or Consultations between those two eminent Kingdoms, during the Months of December, January, February, and part of March, 1668, for ending and determining all depending Controversies at this present writing; the success whereof we shall have liberty to mention more particularly in our Observations in some of those Months before named.

Spain and Portugal, by Gods mercy and the earnest solicitations of several Kings and Princes, reconciled in Anno 1668. which Kingdom of Portugal or Lusitania (for by that name most Authors mention it) was conquered under Philip the Second, King of Spain; by the Duke of Alva in the Year 1581. as the Annals of England record; h being then in  $\infty$ ,  $\mathcal{U}$  in  $\mathcal{W}$ ,  $\mathcal{J}$  part of that Year in  $\infty$  and  $\mathcal{M}$ : and after it had continued under the jurisdiction of Spain 59 Years, was again recovered by the lawful Heir of that Kingdom, viz. John Duke of Briganzæ, the first of November 1640. without effusion of much blood, h then also transiting  $\infty$ ,  $\mathcal{U}$   $\mathcal{W}$ ,  $\mathcal{J}$  in  $\mathcal{X}$ : since which time, with various success, the Portugals have preserved and maintained their right of Kingship in the Portugal Line by Arms, and now in 1668, after many difficult Treaties betwixt both Nations, a full Peace is concluded betwixt Spain and Portugal,  $\text{h}$  again transiting the Sign  $\text{♊}$ ,  $\text{♋}$ ,  $\text{♌}$ , and  $\text{♍}$ : now we consider, as this Kingdom was lost  $\text{h}$  transiting  $\text{♊}$ , and in part reconquered  $\text{h}$  transiting the same Sign, so more absolutely in 1668  $\text{h}$  transiting again the same Sign: from thence we may conclude, that the transit of  $\text{h}$  in  $\text{♊}$  doth produce much trouble, but more good than evil unto that Nation, which may hereafter be observed by those whose hap it shall be to live when  $\text{h}$  makes his next progress through  $\text{♊}$ ; for though in 1668 there hath happened very strange alteration concerning the present King, yet all controversies have been determined without intestine War, and the Nation settled in a firm condition; we may from hence consider, that the general Affairs of Kingdoms and Nations have a strong dependency and connexion with second causes; very few calamities there are afflicting a City or People generally, which have not relation to some present configuration of Heaven.

Astrological Judgments.

The City of Venice now in Arms against the Turkish Emperour, the most absolute Monarch of all Europe, and of greatest Power, whose Forces as yet they have for many Months with great valour opposed, the Geniture of which City of Venice, if Lucas Gauricus hath truly recorded unto posterity, then we say, that in all probability the Venetian State will withstand the Fury of the Turks in this present Siege, and either by Peace, or Fortune of War deliver and free themselves and besieged City in Candia: the succeeding February promiseth well, but June 1669 more, or near unto one of those Months, we have hopes things may be in those parts quieted, or the Turk wholly routed.

The Polonian Kingdom unsettled by reason of that Kings inclination unto a quiet life, and his recedency from

from the Throne, and full application unto a more holy and retired condition: Happy King is he, if his resolution continue, that prefers his Soules health above the vain glory of an earthly Kingdom; his so great desire of solitude hath occasioned our enquiry into his Nativity, to observe the concurrence of Heavenly bodys with his present actions; we find his MC came to the body of h in the Year 1667. or somewhat sooner, near upon which time he seems to have contracted a deep melancholly, either for the death of his Queen, or by reason of his discontented Subjects, and then first to have resolved upon his intended solitary life; we also find that in the latter part of this year 1668 and beginning of 1669 he hath the ascendent of his Nativity directed unto the Cusp of the fourth House; which direction in every ordinary Nativity produceth change of habitation, and many times according to Origanus, Est Lethalis, & tanquam ad domum sepultura: yet have we known very many to have out-lived that direction, but never without some eminent change or alteration. Except that of Charles the Fifth, Emperour of Germany, we have few or no Presidents or Examples of either Kings or Emperours, that have thus voluntarily declined Government; yet Strada writes, that some did affirm or believe the day of Charles the Fifth his resignation of all his Principalities was the first of his repentance: but its only in God to judge of the hearts of Kings, and not in man, especially in such cases tending unto devotion.

We have observed many effects of the late Comets in 1664 their influence, very terrible they have been in those Kingdoms unto which the Tail inclined, we wish their influence had ended with those late Calamities, but we affirm positively many are behind: Where or in whom is repentance of sins, or any amendment of life?

Therefore we may believe, that in Europe, where the late late Comets were so famously visible, and so long a time appeared; there will many know changes and alterations happen in a small compass of years; as unto the revolutions and changes of Kingdoms, as unto Wars, Pestilence, and the last Plagues of all, Famine and Scarcity of Provisions for mankind, with great mortality unto all manner of Cattle; the durability of the Comets appearance, and passage or transit through so many Signs of the Zodiack, the several forms and shapes, the unequal motion of them, the latency at some times of the Comets, these do all unanimously declare the Grandeur of their influence, in all or most parts of the habitable World: There hath since 1664 been several reports of other Comets appearance, both in England and other parts; but upon serious enquiry, we find the contrary, or no great certainty thereof, nor have we seen any sufficient authority for such reports, they being wholly vulgar.

True it is, that in August 1668. two sober persons lately returned from Merryland, a Plantation under the Lord Baltimore near Virginia, did relate unto us, That there appeared there this last Winter a Comet for some small time of an unusual shape, and that not long after the Indians of those parts slaughtered many of the English Planters who lived remote or far asunder; but that since, the Governour had taken order for better security of those under his charge; these persons do also affirm, that the Native Indians are well stored and furnished with Guns, Powder and Shot: Verbum sat.

In May 1668. a person of quality communicated unto us the Copy of what follows, viz.

Yesterday meeting an acquaintance of mine, he shewed me a Letter he newly received from the Barbadoes, out of which I extracted what follows;

A Comet appears to us near the Horizon, in shape like to an inverted Pyramid, the point downward, some 15 degrees from

from the Horizon, but now it riseth much higher every night a vast length in the constellation of the Whale, pointing transversely with the thick end towards the great Dog, it appears near us very formidable:

Since the appearance hereof, we hear of great damage by Fire, viz. at the Bridge or Landing-place in Barbados.

In July 1668. this same Gentleman received further account of a Comet seen in Virginia—his words are — Imat (saith he) with the following account of the Comet seen in Virginia, which I copied from the Letter sent hither. The Comet appeared the 26. of February 1667. like unto a Javelin, it reached down from the Horizon to the 15. and 16. degree, it appeared about Sun set, and continued about 5 or 6 hours at a time, and appeared not there above six or seven days.

This appears to be the same seen in Merryland before mentioned, and in regard it appeared near Sun set, the effects depending from thence will not be manifest until about 1669 and 1670. or perhaps longer; it intimates unto those who have their Plantations in the Southwest parts of Virginia, some conspiracy of the Natives for their destruction and slaughter, but much of it we hope will be prevented by the discretion and Providence of the present Governour, of whom we have heard very honourable commendations.

From hence it is apparent that Comets have been seen as well in the West as East-Indies since 1664. we are also further certified, that besides that general misfortune which befell us in Pegu in the East-Indies, the Dutch also inhabiting there have had some conflicts with the Forces of the King of Macassar (sparingly mentioned) not greatly to their advantage; but what greater misfortune hath befallen them in 1668. the return of their Ships in 1669 may more fully relate: by repetition of what hath been delivered, we conclude with the Patriarch of Constantinople, Aph. 87. Nunquam

Astrological Judgments.

ea eveniunt sine magna mutatione Regnorum illius Clima-tis in quo apparuerint; be assured (saith he) that Comets or strange Apparitions, never appear without some great mutation of the Kingdoms of that Climate wherein they appear.

Of the ingress of the Sun into Capricorn. 1669.

We proceed to the Figure of the Sun his ingress into ♏, wherein we find the Angles of the Figure to be di-posed by ♋ and ♏ ♏ in the ter. of ♏, ♏ in the ter. of ♋: these are arguments that most part of the subsequent Winter will be spent in consultations, or rather, verbal

verbal conflicts, Actions at Law, then in Martial Actions, we mean in the Western parts of Europe : The late  $\odot$  of  $\text{H}$  and  $\text{J}$  seems to have produced great contrariety in mens judgments and Councils, yea even in the grand Councils of Nations and Commonwealths, Cities, or Towns Corporate : the Sword-man in contest with the the Civil Officer, matters very near drawing to that issue, whether the power of the Sword, or Civil Law, or Customs of Nations shall most prevail. Et mutationem voluntatum amicorum ad invicem, & etiam personarum se invicem diligentium, & cadet inter eos loco dilectionis, tadium & mala voluntas; in effect, here seems lately a change of good will, or former correspondency amongst friends, and of other persons living before-time in great unity or great friendship one with another, but now instead of love there will fall out a weariness or loathing of each others company, and much ill will to boot. This is an argument of high and strange divisions, enmities, controversies, alienations of friendship amongst Courtiers, Councils, Citizens, and persons of all degrees and qualities, as well of the male as female Sex; persecutions, defamations, old matters and grudges of long continuance, or long since perpetrated, now brought to light and questioned, yea and judged : old designs find new means or ways to perfect malicious contrivements; nor will this unhappy deluge of mischief only fall upon the Secular persons, but we shall find by experience, the Clergy, religious Orders of Nations will not be exempted from much molestation in their several conditions; Impedimentum & detrimentum, & destructionem atq; malum casuum in Episcopos ac in alios religiosos & Deum colentes, vexationes, detrimenta, &c. are like to afflict Bishops and Episcopal men, and other religious persons worshipping God : and it is further said; Diminuentur & deprimentur Secta, seu religiones approbatae ab Ecclesia Romana; & etiam aliae religiones hominum, & cadet inter eos habitatio atq; subversio &

Astrological Judgments.

& oblivio servitorum Dei & ipsius laudis; several Sects or Orders of religious persons formerly approved by the Church of Rome, shall be questioned, and very probably some of their scandalous Orders shall be suppressed or purged; nay, many other different judgments of men in Religion shall also be passive in one kind or other, amongst many whereof that so profess Religion, there will be great hesitation or doubting; amongst others, some will be so profane, as wholly to decline, and forget the very service of Almighty God; so that we may probably conclude, many persons of different judgments from the Religion confirmed by the Authority of those places they live in, shall waver in their opinions formerly grounded in, and either seemingly, or enforced by the violence or strictness of the Laws imposed upon them, vary or decline their former judgments, and so in conclusion appear to be of no religion at all, or at best, not settled in any: And if the season of the year permitted Navigations unto remote or far Countreys, especially North-East, then; Detrimentum ac tristitia cadet in perigrinantes pergrinationibus longinquis; eruntq; itinera longa contraria itinerantibus, nec accidet eis exinde bonum, sed cogitationes eorum erunt vana atq; mala finis, & erunt plures infirmitates hominum juxta sæmora & coxas: Many shall be the afflictions and losses of such as in these times make long Voyages, which will prove contrary to the expectation of those who undertake them, by reason the end of them, or success of those Voyages will render the Merchant no profit: Seamen employed upon such accompts, or in such long Voyages, will return home loaden with many infirmities and diseases, particularly, lameness in their thighs, hanches and huckle bones: many other things might be considered from the Configurations of this Winter Quarter, but because the effects of the Lunar Eclipse of May 1668 are now in operation, we refer the consideration thereof to our discourse of them in our Anglicus of 1668.

The

The weather of this season will be various, much snow and wet, windy, the Eastern and North wind more than ordinary frequent, the Air cold and sharp; the diseases threatned are like to be the Gout, both hand and foot Gout, weakness of the Lungs, Convulsions in little Children, Cramps, soar Throats, Dropsies, Tumors in the Legs, dry Coughs, griping in the Guts.

Altercationes verborum inter homines plus solito; debates and wrangling about words more than ordinary, which gives an occasion to judge some former Articles, Leagues, &c. are to be a new looked into or inspected, or further debated and examined for the ending some depending strifes.

Of the Suns ingress into Aries.

Astrological Judgments.

According to the Doctrine of Ptolomy, Mars and Venus shall have most power in this Figure, Mars as being Lord of the Ascendant; Venus as having most dignity in the Angle succeeding the place of the Sun, viz. 7. House.

The Sign ascending is m, the most impetuous and violent in the whole Zodiack, the degree ascending is in the third Asterism or Constellation of Libra, a watery Constellation, the Northern part windy, the Southern dry and pestilent; but because the first Constellation of the Scorpion begins in 26 degrees thereof, or 27. according to Vincent Wing, and is furnished with many martial Stars, and some of the nature of Saturn and Jupiter, producing Snow or Hail, and moist weather, we conceive during April and part of May the weather may incline according to their significations.

The Moon is in the last part of the Asterism of the Virgin, wherein is that eminent fixed Star called the Virgins Spike, of the nature of Venus and Mars; there are also other Mercurial and Martial Stars in the train of her Garment, and these are watery: we will begin with the signification of Mars, who must not be taken as if he were in Aries, but in Taurus, according unto true Astrology and the opinion of Hermes, Aph. 58. Cum planeta est in gradu 30. signi, significatio ejus est in signo sequenti: a Planet in the last degree of a Sign, shall manifest his influence in the subsequent, the reason whereof is given by Zart the Arabian: Cum planeta fuerit in ultimo gradu signi, jam recessit fortitudo ejus ab ipso signo, Et est quasi vir qui posuit pedem suum supra limen portæ, volens exire: when a Planet shall be in the last degree of a Sign, his fortitude and signification is receded from that Sign, and hath assimilation to a person whose foot is upon the threshold of the Door ready to go out of the House: We conjecture, or may very probably so do, some eminent great person, or many persons who have formerly lived very splendidly, or have had great Authority, thority, Commands, Offices, Employments, or high favours of Princes, or the like, whether Civil or Military their Honour was derived from, it matters not; such as these are like to be discharged from their Offices or Dignities, and inforced to live upon their proper patrimony, or in a far more mean condition than formerly. The Kingdoms or Countrys assigned unto this change or the like, most properly are Russia, Polonia the great, Ireland, Barbados, and other Islands in the West-Indies, more near unto Europe, are Lorrain, Switzerland, Helvetia, Rhetia near the Alpes, so also many Persons and Commanders, if not Princes or Kings in Asia the less. The late conjunction of ♄ and ♃ in Aquarius, Novemb. 1668, we fear hath excited the angry passions of very many great persons unto high and sublime resolutions, which now may operate near this time, for now Mars enters Taurus, Malefica, si regionibus, civitatibus, provinciis vel locis affectis non dominantur, nec à beneficiis impediuntur, deterius afficiunt, Goclemius, Aph. 58. The infortunes when they do not govern or have assignment by their government over Regions, Kingdoms, Cities, Provinces, &c. or are not impeded by the benevolent Planets, do work their impressions with greater mischief. We draw near unto 1672, about which time, great change and alteration in Empires and Kingdoms have long since been expected to a manifestation, especially in Muscovia and those Kingdoms bordering thereupon, by reason of that wonderful Comet appearing 1572, which did seem to point out those parts, and therefore from thence or those parts, the first beginning of those grand mutations shall have their original or first motion.

Astrological Judgments.

What the acceptance or refusal of the Prince of Russia unto the Crown of Poland may in time produce, very shortly will be made apparent. The reason why the effects of that Comet or its influence should be so long retarded, are given by several Astronomers, viz. because because it did not appear in the Elementary Region as most Comets do: Camerarius speaking hereof, saith, Hoc sidus non decrevit corpore, sed potius in altius in firmamentum ascendit; this Star did not decrease in body, but rather ascended higher in the firmament. Quod verò hoc sidus in elementari regione locum suum non habeat, etiam sola oculari conspectu absq; instrumentis demonstrari potest; It may be demonstrated by ocular demonstration, that this Star hath not its place in the Elementary Region.

With whom consents that prodigiously learned Mathematician Tycho Brahe; Contra omnem controversiam comprobare licuerit, stellam hanc ascitam, nequaquam in Elementari mundo infra lunam, sed longe supra hanc profundissimo aethere illuxisse: without all controversie it is easily made good, that this strange Star did not at all, or at any time manifest it self in the Elementary world below the Moon, but ever far above the Moon in the highest Region of the Air, &c. it is certain, and we have found it true by experience in our days, that those Comets which appear in the Elementary Region, do either immediately or within a small compass of years manifest their effects; but far otherwise it is in those which are only visible in the higher Region: We generally find in the Writings of the learned, that from the influence of that Comet, and the Sabbatical return of the two superiour Planets  $\text{J}$  &  $\text{U}$  into the fiery Trigon, great and miraculous alterations should succeed in Empires, Monarchies, Nations and Commonwealths; but since 1572, or since 1603, being the year of the first entrance of  $\text{J}$  and  $\text{U}$  into the fiery Triplicity, there hath not appeared so grand mutations of Empires or Kingdoms, as was expected; for some have hinted as unto an universal Monarchy, particularly Cardan, Omnia nutu unius reguntur: All shall be governed by One: although we do not hold Cardan's words Magisterial or Oraculous, yet with a modest sobriety we are perswaded that there are

are greater mutations approaching in Europe, than any yet have been since 1572, or 1603, for the fiery Trigon hath most influence upon Christians; Trigonus igneus Christianarum: Goclenius Apho. 119. of whose judgment are Cardanus, and Petrus de Atriaco.

Conjunctiones in signis igneis si fiant, tunc mundi imperia & monarchia constituuntur, Aph. 13. Goclenii: Conjunctions of the two superiour Planets when in fiery Signs, then are Empires and Monarchies constituted: such Conjunctions have been in our age, and will continue in the succeeding age; but that which occasions our further enquiry, is; First, The permutation of the Aphelium of Mars out of the Sign Leo into Virgo, the ascendant of the City of Paris, and of most of the Southern parts of France, a change which happens not in less than almost 2000 years; the entrance of which Aphelium into Virgo began about the year 1650, or 1651, according to the laborious Vincent Wing his Astronomical Tables; Mutantur regna & dominia, fides, sectas; ac opiniones hominum, dum mutantur Auges Planetarum de signo in signum, Rigel. Apho. 9. Kingdoms, Principalities, Faith, Sects, the Opinions of men are changed or altered, when the Auges of the Planets are changed from one Sign into another: we conceive more than ordinary changes will be in the City of Paris and in France, upon malignant configurations of the two malevolent Planets Saturn and Mars in Virgo, at what time the Aphelium of Mars shall transite further into that Sign, or when any total Solar Eclipse shall be therein, or any new Comet shall have his first appearance therein. Secondly, we consent with Goclenius and others, viz. that at this present, that eminent fixed Star Cor Scorpii, which formerly was in Scorpio, and did then manifest the affliction of the Syrians and Moors even to their ruine and bondage; we say, that fixed Star is now removed into Sagittarius, and so doth operate upon Europe, but most forcibly upon Spain and France,

perhaps some reason it is of that strange antipathy betwixt those two famous Kingdoms: Nihil accidit quin à corporibus supercelestibus designetur effectus, Rigel. App. 88. There is nothing of any great moment contingent upon Earth, but the effect thereof is designed from the supercelestial bodys: but we now come to the vernal Figure of this year 1669, wherein we find Mars Lord of the Ascendant, and placed near upon the Cusp of the sixth house, he signifying in part the common man or people, and the most remarkable concernments of their condition; the general diseases of this Vernal Quarter, if not of the whole year succeeding; the  $\Delta$  is admitted to participate with him in all common Affairs and Actions: The first Aspect he will have unto any Planet we perceive, will be unto a Quadrature of  $\gamma$ , in the 24. of  $\alpha$ :  $\delta$  then in the 24. of  $\delta$ , near those tumultuous fixed Stars we call the Pleiades; the  $\Delta$  in this present Figure applies unto the  $\delta$  of  $\delta$ : intimating hereby in the whole Macrocosm, many difficult Controversies, much falshood, and sundry mistakes in the Leagues and friendships of great Potentates, many defections in former Confederates, great dissentions, and superlative animosities in the Courts of Princes, strange and unusual exclamations of one Courtier, one Favourite against another, nothing but slander, malice and impeachment in those earthly habitations; jarrings and contentions in the domestick Families of inferiour persons of every quality and degree; the like Contentions in Citys, Countrys and Towns Corporate, every place infected with jealousy, malice, and quarrelling, whereby not a few lose their Dignities, Places, Offices, or Livelihoods, are beggered and not at all regarded; many ungracious children will by riot and excess, luxury, debauchery, whoredoms, beggar themselves, and thereby sell their Patrimony or Inheritances left unto them from their careful Predecessors; these judgments are derived from the  $\Delta$  her  $\delta$  unto  $\delta$ , besides others of an higher nature, nature, according to Rigel Aph. 58. Cum Luna in Revolutione Marti applicat, interfessionem inter Reges significat, & descensum nobilium de gradibus suis, & elevationem unius super alium: When in a Revolution the ☽ appliceth to a male Aspect of ☿, it signifieth contentions amongst Kings, and much bloodshed or slaughter of mankind from thence, as also the degradation of Noble persons from those Offices or Qualities they lived in, and others exalted unto their places; these judgments are derived from the ☽ her ☿ unto ☿, admitting her Orbes, for then being afflicted in an humane Sign, declares according unto Bonatus; Impedimentum in hominibus juxta signum in quo fuerit. viz. Mischief and mischances unto men, according to the Sign that she is in. In many Countreys of Europe she portends many debates, and some tumultuous quarrels betwixt the Souldiery and Country man, and this concerning fresh Quarters or Billeting of Souldiers: very many Duels frequently are discerned amongst those we call the Headers or Gallants of the time, especially after their tippling and riotousness in Taverns and other inconsiderable Houses, whereunto mankind, especially the Youth are very prone: God amend them in every Nation.

Astrological Judgments.

By position ☿ is in the 6. House, significat agridudines calidas, & sunt calida & sicca, quæ habebunt morum a sanguine corrupto, & ex cholera venturas in homines, significat etiam merores ac tristitias quæ eveniunt occasione servorum & ancillarum atq; famulorum: as posited in the 6. House, he declares hot or acute infirmities, as hot and dry Feavers, which have their original from corrupt blood and cholera, great losses and damages many will sustain by reason of evil Servants, Princes by male account of their Officers, the Merchant by prodigal Factors and Correspondents in several Nations, the ordinary person will suffer damage by careless and theevish pilfering Apprentices and Servants, both Domesticks and external, or such as we call day-Labourers:

Astrological Judgments.

Generally people subject unto the Small Pox, with dangerous Quinsies, Inflammations, or Imposthumes in their throats, the Kings-Evil, the Stone in the Reins, Kidneys, and Bladder especially, madness, Lethargies, sore Eyes, or inflammations in those parts; Calentures, Deafness, Vertigoes, Ruptures of all kinds; in some Countrys a Disease very like, if not the Plague, or some such pestilential Distemper.

Significat etiam ventos calidos venturos, & destructionem frugum, quæ fuerint in locis de quibus debent recolligi, &c. There are threatened hot soultry Winds to be frequent, as also a destroying or destruction of Fruit, which should be in those Countrys or places from whence we ought to have them, and where they should be gathered, and from whence they might have been produced.

Similiter destructionem arborum; in some parching Countrys both Fruit and Tree perish and dye: & hoc ex causa caloris excedentis debitum atq; naturalem modum, and this by reason of excess of heat more than usual, or more than naturally happens in most years: Significat etiam multitudinem nubium atq; nubilarum, pluviarum quoq; ac tonitruorum & fulgurum: there attends the former, evil weather, a multitude of great and small unwholsome Clouds, or very close weather, uncomfortable Showers or unseasonable, much Thunder, Hail, and lightning.

Significat etiam mortem mulierum & vaccarum: Albunasat judgeth, such a posture as of Mars in this Vernal Figure, portends the death of Women and of Cows; the reason thereof we do conceive, why Women more than men will be passive, is because ♀ is in the House of Venus, of Cows, because the Sign ♀ is a terrene, bestial, earthly Sign, and signifieth Bulls, Cows, and other great Cattel, nay Horses are like to be much infected by this position, ♂ having wholly dominion in the twelfth House.

Astrological Judgments.

Significat etiam dolorem oculorum, & magis sinistrorum quam dexterarum, & abundabit plus in mulieribus quam in viris, nec erunt cultus terrarum multum utiles, erigq; paucitas annonæ, eritq; odium inter mulieres. People will be generally afflicted with sore eyes, but more in their left than right eyes, and the disemper will more afflict the female Sex than man; little profit will arise by Husbandry, scarcity of Grain for mans use, more than ordinary Contentions and bickering betwixt Women of all Qualities and Conditions, whether of high or low degree: We may very well consent unto the judgment of Albumasar herein, both concerning the Diseases specified, and as to the male carriage of Women, because the D a general significatrix of Women, at the entrance of the Sun into V applieth unto the ♂ of ♂, the Aspect it self being in Feminine Signs, and near the Degrees of the 12. and 6. Houses: God direct the judgment from thence to be made, viz. That from their account and their instigation, there be not many unhappy Duels, Murthers, Mis-informations, Accusations, and many other exorbitant mischiefs in the North, and North-West of Europe, if not some in Constantinople, our judgment is generally intended & not levell'd at any particular Kingdom or Country, excepting Constantinople: but if in this year there shall any insurrection be in that Eastern Country; Belli mutationes ostendit in revolutione anni Planeta, à quo separatur Mars; that Planet is an Annual revolution of a year from whom Mars last separated, demonstrates the quality of the person, viz. male or female who gives cause of Contentions or Wars; We find ♂ separated from the *** Aspect of ♀ the 3. of March preceding the Revolution. It is our corrupt nature that permits the male influence of the unfortunate Planets to take place and sway our desires, for we generally affirm, Ipsa sydera per se nihil operantur mali, The Stars themselves do not operate any evil. Whereas we have mentioned a probability of scarcity in Fruit,

Astrological Judgments.

we have had experience, that, Planeta malevolus tenens anni dominium, quomvis fortunatus, fructibus generaliter nocet, præterquam propriis: An unfortunate Planet being Lord of the Year, though essentially or accidentally fortified, yet generally is obnoxious unto Fruit, except of what he is significator. Si sit in signo terreo (as now) nocivus est seminibus & olivibus, & in an earthly Sign, hurts the Seeds and Olives.

We further observe, that as ♀ is Lady of the 6, applying unto the ☐ of ♈, she thereby threatneth young Infants and Children with the Measels, the Rickets, Small Pox more in this year than formerly, with an easie inclination to consumption of the Lungs, wasting of the Liver, shortness of breath, and swelling in the throat, those of the Female kind of more years are like to be afflicted with very strange and violent Fits of the Mother, palpitation of the heart, and such Feminine Distempers.

In the judgment of this year, especially of the Vernal Quarter, because ♄ doth possess only 5 Degrees of the Ascendant, and ♈ is Lord of the rest; we must admit of ♈ to participate in Dominion or Rule, he by position is in the 7. House, wherein also in the Full ☉ preventional the Sun was: and in the postventional new ☉, both ☉ and ☉ in the 7. with several positions and significations we shall mention as occasion shall offer it self: we find ♈ in ♈ his detriment, his motion swift, his latitude Meridional, in the last Constellation of ♈, in Longitude he is very near Oculus Tauri: from hence a various or confused judgment must needs arise, for though ♈ is Angular and free from combustion, and the Sun applying w<sup>o</sup> to his Aspects, and he thereby moderately powerful: yet it may justly be questioned, whether hereby the evil influence of ♄ predominant in the Lunations preceding and subsequent will be much diminished yet ~~it may be hoped~~ they will, because ♈ is the greater Fortuity and if by his benevolent Aspect he

he is able or doth repress the malice of  $\text{H}$ , the supreme of Planets, then we may with more confidence judge, that much of the labour of mankind, sundry difficulties, or impending misfortunes will be sweetned and accommodated by his influence.

As  $\text{M}$  is a benevolent Planet, he intimates the willing endeavours of many generous and noble moderate persons, high by Birth, great in Command and Office; many Orthodox and religious Prelates of great learning and veneration, many Gentlemen of great knowledge and understanding in the Affairs of the World, persons of deep and sound judgment in the Laws of Nations; we say here it is intimated, that such as these will mightily endeavour to qualifie such Edicts, Constitutions, or Laws, either of Princes or Commonwealths, as have formerly or at present give occasion of offence; true it is, Venus seems to impede these prudent persons for a time, but the  $\odot$  in his glory applying to a  $\star$  of  $\text{M}$ , demonstrates the high hand of Providence which governeth all, will bring it to pass, for the honour of those who perfected it.

We further observe, that as  $\text{J}$  is departing out of  $\text{V}$  wherein he was singularly well fortified and thereby of great power or Command, and now entring  $\text{S}$ , wherein he suffers many debilities; so shall it be the fortune (we cannot express things more significantly) of some most famous Commander in Arms, or of many, to be subject unto great mutation, either of relinquishing his or their Commands, or to a very mean regulation as to Office or Offices, and all either his or their former merits undervalued or not esteemed, and now by malicious suggestions of envious Parasites, their Honours and Actions questioned, their persons in danger, &c. men there are very many, that know not how to perform honourable Actions themselves, or how to value them in others; these judgments may reach unto, and be obnoxious in the Courts and Families of some European Princes and Commonwealths in the Western parts of Europe.

But as  $\Upsilon$  is participant in the Actions of the present times, and in this Season and part of the whole Year, we will observe generally and particularly his signification as posited in Sign and House. As unto man, he represents persons managing the Civil Authority, or Magistracy of Nations, Prefects, Governours, Magistrates, or such as who govern the People, or administer Laws and Justice unto them, viz. Judges, whether of the Civil or Common Law, or Officers relating unto Ecclesiastical Courts or other Jurisdictions, Masters of Colleges, Hospitals, Priories, Abbacies, Nunneries, &c. as he is now posited in the 7. House and very Degree of the  $\odot$  in the Eclipse of the  $\text{D}$ , May 1668. he may import a sudden defection or questioning many of them, who near upon that time had their original preferment, and perhaps have not managed their Places with that trust according or agreeing to the desires of the Informants: but though  $\text{Q}$  apply unto the  $\square$  of  $\Upsilon$ , intimating some younger people or persons may thus accuse their Superiours and cast some obloquy upon them, yet sixth  $\odot$  doth instantly apply unto the  $\ast$  of  $\Upsilon$ , we judge the hand of Justice acquits them:  $\Upsilon$  as here placed, Significat multos dolores oculorum, & precipue pueris & mulieribus, & multam mortem in eis; he manifests several infirmities of the eyes, more especially to young Children and Women, many whereof will dye of such Diseases: & mortem in bestiis, death of great Cattel, which we rather dread, in regard  $\text{J}$  signifieth the same. Quarta autumnalis erit temperata, & paucum nocuum ejus; the Autumnal Quarter shall be temperate and little harm therein, assiduum flatum ventorum occidentalinum, continual blasts of Westerly Winds, sed forte erit diminutio messis, its probable there will be a moderate Harvest, for in that Season, significat aestatem valde calidam, & multitudinem ventorum calidorum; the Summer is like to be hot and troubled with uncomfortable winds, harming the Corn.

Jupiter we say hath signification of Wheat, the most comfortable Grain the Country man hath, and of most profit when it proves well or plentiful; here is no appearance that this Year will produce any considerable Crop of that Grain, either by reason of unexpected Mildews, or other casualties happening thereunto: for if the substance, thriving, or well-doing of the Common man, is to be taken from the Lord of the Second, his debilities or fortitudes in the Vernal Figure, then we cannot promise unto the Farmer any increase of estate from his Crops of Wheat; or indeed doth the general condition of the Commonalty seem to be any thing amended by the benevolent  $\Upsilon$ , being placed with a fixed Star of the nature of  $\delta$ , shewing his many labours, but little returns of gain or enrichment thereby; the malicious Quadrature of  $\psi$  beholdeth the ascendant, which almost drives the Common man into despair; for neither being blessed with a plentiful Crop, or having happy success of his greater Cattel, who seem to be afflicted with the Murrain and other pestilential Diseases, he must needs be impoverish'd and in a backsliding Condition. Cum fuerit Cauda in 12 domo, significat partem fortunae, detrimentum animalium majorum, ac ipsorum diminutionem: when you find in the Revolution of a Year the Dragons Tail in the 12. House, it signifieth small increase of Fortune in that Year, great damage by the death of greater Cattel, viz. Oxen, Cows, Horses; the Diseases of those kind of Creatures are like to proceed from Surfeits or overheating their bodies; the Disease lodging for the most part in their heads, throats, and hinder parts:

Besides what hath been mentioned of  $\Upsilon$  already, we find he is now in this Vernal Figure in the place of  $\odot$  in the last obvious Lunar Eclipse May 1668. which may occasion some further disputes or inquiries betwixt the two Monarchs of Spain and France, of or concerning some Capitulations or Customs not as yet regulated or fully rectified about the Confines of Burgundy, or the late new acquisitions thereof: As ♀ is in ☐ of ♀, and he in the 7. it may import some marriage or marriages of persons in great Authority or Birth, may be the occasion or cause of various Controversies (if not War) generally in many Nations of Europe, unto the great dislike of the supreme Authority of those parts or Kingdoms; but more clearly, it manifests that Women shall occasion many Disturbances in Europe, especially in those Nations or Provinces subject unto the Sign Pisces and Gemini, viz. Lumbardy, Brabant, Flanders, Sicilia, Portugal, and other Ciry and Countrys.

These judgments must be warily understood, and are not applicable unto every person or persons; for it is observed, In magnatibus est consuetudo, quæ non assimilatur consuetudini domesticorum. There is and are Customs practised by some great persons in many parts of the World, which cannot or ought to be assimilated unto by ordinary people. We find the Moon in our Figure, in the latter Degrees of a Sign, and Venus newly entered Pisces: ♀ à complemento sui luminis usque ad tertiam dicotomitatem, viz. past the Full, therefore we do judge that the Females signified by the ♀ incipiunt senescere, & erit ab illis occasio turbarum, from such as those who are declining in years or near unto 45, may very many disturbances or difficulties arise, and be occasioned in the places before mentioned: now as unto the signification of ♀ who is in the 3. House, and hath her ☐ unto ♀ in the 7. her paucity of Degrees in the Sign she is in, declares the maiden-kind or Virgins, who are here signified, to give their Relations very much trouble and affliction, by marrying contrary to their Kindred or Parents consent, and that many young Gentlewomen will be cheated and cozened thereby, and bring upon themselves by their so careless marriage much torment of mind, mind, and in the end extream Poverty : what we mention of the young Lady, will hold good in many young Gallants, who shall adventure without their Parents knowledge to bestow themselves unhappily, even to their own endless and perpetual repentance, by reason many of them will be disinherited for their so great contumacy : We do further say, that as ♀ in the 3. House is in * Aspect with ♄ ; Significat fortunam ex filiis, some young men will dye in their Travels, others by debauchery and intemperancy, many shall dye childless, others not long after their marriage, by means whereof, those who least expected it, shall come unto great preferment and riches, both Relations and others : Et gaudebunt homines ex rumoribus advenientibus aliunde, men shall rejoice by reason of news and rumours coming from sundry places : Et quod ex tripudiis vel ludis ac rebus delectabilibus, many shall be delighted in Masques, Dancings, Plays, and such like pleasant Actions, and shall easily pass away all former cares, by reason of more pleasing matters at hand ; this hath relation to the Youth of Nations according to their quality and degrees, who it seems in this Year will be given unto all manner of sports.

We do now relate the signification of Venus as she is posited in the third House ; significat oblivionem religionis, Et quod parum homines curabunt de ipsa : many dissolute persons by reason of their too much addicting themselves to voluptuousness, will make small account of the Religion they profess, nay in a manner they will forget it, or live after no Religion ; significat incontinentiam Venerei cultus, Et iram illa de causa : men will be given unto incontinency, and unto wanton lascivious courses, whereupon many bickerings and quarrellings will arise : Et ex hoc perpetrabuntur multa mala opera, Et quod juvabunt amici amicos ad illa facienda : many horrible mischiefs will attend those who practise such courses, and what is most to be lamented, one friend, or many friends

friends will one assist another in perpetrating such unbecoming Actions: though in many parts of Europe, there doth seem to be much quietness or tranquility, yet in other Countrys, Nations, and Kingdoms subject unto those Signs afflicted; Erit destructio divitum & magnatum maxime in partibus septentrionalibus; there may fall out such controversies or differences upon the sudden, altogether unexpected, as may occasion the destruction, ruine, or slaughter of many rich and noble persons, especially in the Northern parts of those Nations who are passive, if not also in the Northern parts of whole Europe; nay, from this feud or quarrelling amongst the Grandees of several Nations at first in words, there will arise high and continued animosities betwixt several others who side or take part with them, and at last the Commonalty will be as well ingaged as the Great ones, these Disasters in the North-west parts of the World: Eruntq; infirmitates hujus anni fortes atq; nocibiles; the Diseases of this Year will be very strong and exceeding harmful: Bestia quoq; minores graviter laborabunt & interibunt: the lesser Cattel, especially Sheep, shall this Year be pestered with the Rot. Of the City of London we only say, that according unto natural causes, her Buildings will proceed with much cheerfulness of the Inhabitants, and generally her Merchants Ships return with rich and full loading, from all or the most habitable parts of the World; according unto that 55. Apho. Ptolom. Martis adversus Naves noxia vis imminuitur, cum neq; in Caeli medio, nec in 11 domo est.
This Aphorism is verified in her Restauration, for Mars in the Figure thereof is in neither of those Houses: but of this God willing hereafter. We conclude with this positive judgment, That if persons of different judgment in Religion could be reconciled, no City in the habitable World would be more rich or famous, but, hinc lachryma—God of his infinite mercy moderate all dis-sentions in religious matters, and let all men repent for former and present sins. Tunc—

The Suns entrance into Cancer.

We willingly do insert the Figure of the ☉ his entrance into ♋ of this Year 1669, because both Jupiter and Venus are transiting the Sign Gemini, being the Ascendant of the famous City of London, Jupiter and Saturn also in trine Aspect, and Venus very lately in ☿ with Jupiter, happy Omens for her Building: we constitute Venus Lord of the Ascendant, and Saturn Lord of the 9, 10, and 11. Houses to be principal Significators in the

Astrological Judgments.

the Actions of this Quarter; which Actions in most parts of Europe do seem to relate unto tranquility and Peace, or unto a perfect settlement or accommodation of all former Controversies: for near unto this month, or rather unto the time of the Sun's ingress into Cancer, here are many amicable Aspects of all the Superiour Planets one unto another, manifesting a great Harmony or Concord, Unity and Peace in all or most Nations of Europe; these Aspects do also declare the many Embassadors or Agents imployed in several parts of the world by Kings and Princes, only for establishing Leagues of Friendship and amity one amongst another; as Mercury hath dominion in this position, as he is free from any impediment, his influence is the greater, and hath more forcible operation upon all such actions as he is significator of; he is boni esse, ac bene dispositus, swift in motion, Liber ab impedimentis, and therefore, significat bonum esse negotiatorum, sapientum, & magnorum operum, viz. those noble persons, Embassadors, or others, who shall have the honour to be imployed in several negotiations, or in difficult Treatys or Actions, are promised success hereby, and that they shall conclude those matters they are employed about. Et quilibet inveniet bonum a suis dominatoribus, eritq; annus utilis dictis personis: in effect, thus much is declared, that those Agents imployed shall merit so well in their several Negotiations, that their Kings, Princes, or Rulers who employed them will reward them very well for their true service and upright dealings, and that in time they shall come unto great honour and places of trust: The most remarkable thing in this Figure is, that there will be the 22. of June a Conjunction of Sol and Venus in  $\odot$ , the 23. of the same a Conjunction of Mars and Venus, 24. of June a Conjunction of Sol and Mars in Cancer. These Aspects or Configurations in a Tropick Sign, may give a just occasion unto those people subject unto the Sign Cancer, to fear some new differences amongst their Nobilitys or Grandees,

Astrological Judgments.

Grandeers, or some rumors tending unto division, rancor and malice; in some Countrys it may be feared, the insolency of the Souldiery may provoke the Country man unto Fury and Insurrection; in other Countrys according to their scituation and capacity, here is threatened much harm and great destruction to their Corn and Pasture Grounds, by unseasonable rains and the abundance thereof; in the Mediterranean and Levant Seas much prejudice may happen unto the Merchants, by the many Depredations and Pyratival Actions of the Moors, who seem in their Shipping, near this Month, to be very numerous, and much to infest those Coasts; the Countrys most subject unto the male effects of the before mentioned Conjunctions, are Burgundy, some parts of Scotland, Russia, Holland, Zealand, South parts of Africa, and their Havens and Sea Towns; the City of Constantinople is like to be very sensible of some dangerous Insurrection or unruly tumult near or in this Month; and those Pyrates of or belonging unto Sally, Tripoly, and Argiers, after much and manifold harms acted against Christian Merchants near about this time, may now or near this Month receive a just reward from Heaven for all their Villanies and Theeveries, by a sudden and unexpected Sea-Fight or Fights, or surprisal of their best Ships, either in their Harbours or where they can be found.

But seeing we usually find, that those places assigned unto the opposite Sign, do as well suffer as the other wherein the Eclipse, or male Configuration is; we shall then find, that those Kingdoms subject unto  $\gamma$  will be participant, as well as those under  $\odot$ : therefore we say the Indians, East and West, are herein concerned, the East-Indies, and the Hollanders especially trading unto those parts, are and will be much concern'd near these times by some sudden or unexpected Action greatly to their prejudice, viz. either by surprisal of some of their Factories, or firing some of their inferiour Vessels

Astrological Judgments.

Vessels transporting Merchandize from one Coast unto another, and these by the Native Indians, who have an inveterate hatred against the Hollander, and very like against all European Christians. We take the more notice of these Conjunctions, they happening in the Third House, and in the House of the ♃, a watery Sign, which naturally hath signification of Sea Affairs, and ♄ in that Sign is very much to be considered, for he signifieth,

Naufragia repente venientia; he signifieth great and sudden harms unto Ships and Navigation, when least expected or looked for: but we come nearer home, as ♄ is unluckily placed in the second House, he declares great poverty and want of Money amongst vulgar people, or Commonalty in general, near these times: Et erit paupertas & indigentia, causa inducens eos ad contrarietates, & contentiones, viz. the poverty and want of people generally will be such, as they will be easily excited to Insurrections, to Discontents, to contemn their Magistrates, &c.

The ♀ of ♀ with the ☽ seems to give signification of some great Marriage in the Northern parts of Europe; and presently after ♀ conjoined unto ♄ may manifest some other honourable Marriage or Marriages of very high concernment, and of very eminent persons.

The ♂ of ☽ and ♄ in ☿ doubtless argues great preferment unto some noble Cavalier or Grandee, formerly or at present much employed in Sea Affairs; and if the Ascendant of Venice be ☿, Candia not yet taken, we hope God will near this time deliver them from their powerful Enemy by some miraculous Victory, or Design, or Truce.

It may justly be feared that the many Conjunctions in ☿ are significators of much rain to happen here in England, greatly to the detriment of the Country man, in the beginning of his Harvest; and these showers to be in the latter end of June, and also beginning, if not of all all July. The Infirmities of this Quarter, which are signified by this Figure, are not many, by reason of the late ☿ of ♄ and ♀ those most to be feared, are such as are produced from Surfeits, got either by cold, or drunkenness, and those will lodge principally in the upper part of the Stomack, and soonest cured with convenient Vomits administered by learned Physicians: The nearness of ☿ unto ☉ doth declare many people will be afflicted with Rheums in their Eyes, and this by reason of great Colds, unwholesome Vapors, and infected ill airs. The ♄ in this position separating from ☐ of ☿ to the ☐ of ♀, declares many false rumors dispersed by malevolent people, to amuse and torment the common people, to create jealousies and fears amongst them; the Retrogradation of Saturn, being Lord of the 9. 10. and 11. shews the declination or declining of some old Courtier or Ecclesiastical person, and of some others entring into Consumptions amidst their Grandures, and Grandezzas—it's but a ticklish time in the Courts of Princes, Calumnies or mistakes cast down some Cedars, others rise by the ruine of their fellow Courtiers.

We might speak something of the Autumnal Figure, viz. of ☉ his entrance into ♎ Sept. 12. the main design of that Quarter is regulated by ♄ lately entered into ☊ his exaltation, he is Lord both of the 10. and Ascendant: ♄ was lately in ♀ his detriment; that is, a person formerly of honour and esteem, lately under the Clouds or in some disgrace, is now in great hopes of his restoration to former Honour or Dignity, or in a fair way for it, he seems to have many very worthy persons his Friends, and some Enemies he finds, God direct them all to do justice, and to do as they would be done by: God is merciful, and Man ought to be so:—we hope October will decide the Controversie, in what Nation soever this shall happen.

JANUARIES Observations. 1669.

THE grand Councils of Nations, by a froward Generation of people, perhaps martially inclin'd, seem disturb'd and retarded; those of Religious Order, whether Bishops, Abbots, or Cardinals, or of that Function, not much esteemed, or prevalent, or their advice any way approved. Matters of most moment in this Month, are like to be acted in Polonia, or Northerly; nor is the Western parts of Europe without several Negotiations of one King or Prince unto another: by reason many Forreign Agents signified by Mercury, their frequency of coming and returning, people begin to mistrust some great matter is at hand: We find no inclination to War, therefore conceive, persons are employed to qualifie or amend some preceding Articles. This Month in probability, or the consequent dependencies hereof, may much amuse the Great Turk in his Candy War, and occasion a strong mutiny amongst his Janizaries, probably to his great danger if not death, or some unexpected mischance. Towards the Months end the Sword-man and Gown-man reconcile, either in love or policy. From the Actions of this month in the West-Indies, much benefit is like hereafter to accrue unto the Merchants trading to those parts.

FEBRUARIES Observations. 1669.

TH E most active and most serious Councils of this Month, appear to be in Muscovia, and the adjacent parts, very like in Tartaria. Rumors are dispersed, as if some great Monarch were ill disposed in his health, and it may be so, that he will be sickly for some few days. Eastward from England, here's appearance of some little petty Actions, scuffles, or mistake, whereupon Garrison'd Towns begin to be better inspected and furnished with more Souldiers and Ammunition. As yet we do not find the Leagues or Alliances betwixt Princes so firmly settled, but that many difficulties arise, which seem to be referr'd unto further consideration : Many Embassadors or Agents engaged near this time in dubious consultations, which at last they bring unto an happy conclusion.

Latrones multi, very difficult travelling the common Northwest Roads, so many Thieves there are. Clamours against Ecclesiastical persons, different judgments complain in all or most Nations of Europe. Great indeavours in many Countrys, to make parties, and to confederate concerning high designs in agitation near these times : A grand martial Commander inforced to leave his Command : but there are enow ready to accept of his Office.

A Noble Lady or personage of great Quality, inclines much unto melancholly, and discontented passions; abundant in multis terris discordie & maxime rixæ causa mulierum: but now we hope we may mention England particularly, the several beneficial Aspects of late and in this Month, do promise much goodness unto the Nation in general, unto her adventurous Merchant happy returns, unto the common people great tranquility of mind, and a dutiful respect or obedience to their Prince: Preferment seems confer'd upon some deserving Lawyer or Ecclesiastical person. Disgusts may near these times happen in Ireland, Polonia, and Muscovy; in which Nations or some of them, new troubles begin to arise, some persons accused, others slandered, others turn'd out of their Commands, by which we mean no other persons, than those of late in great trust and estimation.

The French Councils seem at a stand, something there happens contrary to the expectation of that Monarch: moderate intelligence comes from Foreign parts, sudden and unexpected, contrary to the expectation of wise men: a little time brings better news; London happily proceeds in her stately Buildings.

APRILS Observations. 1669.

TH E Heavens promise fair to the English Nation: The German Emperour and his Confederates, yea and former Enemies, are upon reconciling all emergent differences: The Portugal though seemingly in a quiet posture; yet suddenly here is manifested unto that Nation some small disturbances, it no losses by Pyratical people. Addresses from Forreign parts unto the Monarch of Great Britain, pleasing Intelligence from his Embassadors and Agents in most parts of Europe: Some unnatural and not usual Disease begins to afflict mankind, Kings-Evil, Quinsies, Small Pox, Frenies, Quarrane Agues, Feavers producing madness, many fear a Plague, we hope no such thing. Mors mulierum, cum siccitate aeris: multa furta, Latrones & prædones multi: in many Countrys married Women dye more than ordinary: the season considered, a dry unwholesome air; many Robberys committed in Houses, and upon Highways, Thieves and Pyrats great plenty: Many under-hand practises and affronts indeavoured against particular persons of Honour and Reputation: Nor doth this month promise much honour or content unto the French Monarch. Polonia and Muscovy probably not well agreed.

THE Consultations of this Month are very many and of great concernment, but carried on with great secrecy; Emperors, Kings, and persons of the highest degrees and quality in all Europe, most diligent and serious in these debates: If Providence have not yet designed peace unto the Venetians from the Ottoman Emperor, they are promised a remarkable Victory over the Turks Forces both by Sea and at Land: The condition and preferment of many great Officers and Commanders in Europe, in a staggering and unconstant posture, the Clergy of all degrees and almost in all Countrys scandalized, many invectives against them, there seems a declination of their Grandeur; News from Poland, Muscovy, and those Northern parts, its to be doubted, there are many factious Spirits in those parts, will create new Broyls if not Wars. Nimia mors in hominibus: in Countrys near hand men dye very fast, probably the Plague increases in the French Confines and Territories. Siccitas multa in pluribus climatibus: A dry Season in many Climats, harmful and noxious. The transit of Mars through the Sign Gemini, doth not seem to threaten Fire, except in the male-contented judgments of men professing Religion, some rumors trouble them.

JUNE'S Observations. 1669.

MAny and happy returns of Ships there seems to be from several parts of Christendom, to the great advantage of the adventurous Merchant, both in this and the preceding Month; If God in his goodness divert some pestilential disease near this Month and present time, then the Citizens of London may with great encouragement proceed in their Buildings, which seem to go on with much alacrity and chearfulness: Some persons overcharg'd with Honour, others male-content and laid aside: Contrarietas inter reges: An appearance of mistakes or grumblings amongst Princes, either in Germany, or near the Alpes: The present Pope liberal in his promotion of several learned Divines within his Dominions, either unto good Benefices or Cardinal Hats: in other Regions the deserving Clergy want not preferments according to their capacity: much means are used, also many worthy Divines endeavour a more right understanding of things or opinions in Religion, which seemingly may take success, even amongst many dissenting judgments: A Month this is like to be of great Actions both at Sea and Land, where any Armys or Navies of Enemies are near: if no peace as yet betwixt the Venetians and Turks, it may be well hoped near this time they will free their besieged City by a signal Victory: besides, Commotions are like to be in Turkey.

JULYS Observations. 1669.

Lies & interfectiones multe in terra Orientis, great slaughters and many contentions or disagreements in the Eastern Countrys: The rude Cossacks and bold Tartars unquiet, make intrudes into their Neighbour-Territories, mutiny amongst themselves concerning their King, Prince, or supreme Magistrate: Some memorable person of the Female Sex ends her days in disgrace; fornicationes multe, mala exinde; many quarrels arise about wanton and lascivious acts, these matters near this and the former month: From Italy and those Countrys within its Confines, comes intelligence of great disgusts betwixt those little Princes and Allies. Nearer home evil rumors are dispersed, as if some turbulent Spirits would disquiet Scotland; others fly abroad, as if some new disputes were like to be more Northward, towards Sweden, Denmark, Poland, Russia: Where Souldiers or Armies are, multa aegritudines militum, & nobilium ex cursibus, & mors vel aegritudo ex causa libidinis: where Armies are, many Souldiers dye by reason of sickness; in other Countrys Gentlemen dye by surfeits or falls got in Horse-Races, by over hearing their bodys, others pine away by too much Venerean sports.

AUGUSTS Observations. 1669.

Sudden News arrives near this time from beyond Seas, from Italy, Turkey, and Eastern parts of Germany, uncomfortable as unto those parts, as if a Commotion had lately been, and many Country people destroyed: Great Rickling in the Courts of Kings and Princes in the Eastern parts, some also Westward. Hopes there seems to be of an exiled person his return, or means endeavoured for such a thing: this in those Countrys where honourable persons have by the Enemy been enforced to fly, this should be in Flanders, Brabant, and it may be in many other Countrys: Many tumults both of the Souldiery and others in the Eastern parts against their Superiours, in Turkey and Polland these commotions will be most apparent, and most violent; they seem not to determine without the death of some Prince, perhaps their Emperor or one of his most eminent Bassis. The Spanish King is menaced with some strange difficult matters near this time, seemingly tending unto War, or the perturbation of some of his Countrys: an ancient Military Commander in some disgrace, or else many envy his Honour, and endeavour to lessen his Fame. Magni venti calidi tempore suo, & paucitas annonæ & messis: Strange hot winds and high, a paucity of provision and Harvest: this more East, and South-East.

SEPTEMBERS Observations, 1669.

Multa venditio, & emptio & acquisitio census*
 Here appears much chaffering, buying and selling of Commodities amongst the Merchants, and great gain thereby: many rich Ships coming home, many new setting forth towards the South, South-West, South-East and other parts; we hope the Citizens of London will be mainly concern'd in these Predictions. This Autumnal Quarter is wholly govern'd by ♀, ☽, and ☿; unquiet Spirits may something disturb the French Confines, if not Paris it self, or some other populous City of that Kingdom; nay there is a probability of the Plague, or some violent pestilential Distempers to raige in that Kingdom, neer these times, if not sooner in the year.

As unto England, Significat bonum esse divitum & magnatum, atq; nobilium, & utilitatem rerum de quibus habent fiduciam in bono, viz. that both the Rich man of any degree, the Gentry and Nobility will live in a contented condition, will have more profit out of their Annual Rents than formerly, and thereby live handsomly. The Heavens smile upon Scotland, so upon the Hollanders, and neer this time matters may be calm and well settled both in Venice and all her Territories, yea perhaps after some trouble in Constantinople.

Supplications for the distressed perhaps will now be heard, and received, in Countrys not far from England: very serious Negotiations on foot, many Embassadors employed, seemingly a general compliance in all or most Nations; the present Pope manifested to be very active for perfecting and ending all Controversies, to his great honour and fame: The infirmities of this Quarter, are like to be weak digestions, dropical humours, Impostumations in the stomach, Peñicks, rotten Coughs, wind Collicks, the French Pox, Disenterys; Law-Suits, wrangling Neighbours, the Common High-ways pestered with Thieves and Vagabonds, as also a Rot of Sheep: Mulus timor in pluribus terris, sed pauca interfectio: In many places men begin to fear some ensuing danger, however there follows little bloodshed, perhaps a few broken heads. If any warlike Actions be heard of tending unto a Battel, they seem to be in the Northern part of Europe, and some in Barbary, where they are seldom quiet; it is true the Emperor of Germany may hear of some unruly pranks in the Western parts of his Empire, but of little concernment: Great Councils in Spain, and many applications unto that Court in or near this Month.

NOVEMBERS Observations. 1669.

SOME sturdy clandestine Actions on foot, former friends begin to quarrel or to controvert old matters, whereupon in many places, accusations, defamations, and great contests arise; if not worse matters in the end: Contentiones, ac contrarietates & conturbationes in omnibus rebus, & damnum illa de causa, mercationes cum fraude; here's Levi against Simeon, and Simeon against Levi; these unnatural Controversies in those Countreys where they fix, do seem to impede the general good of people and Nations. Many scandals and contumelies against the poor Clergy, against the Orders of all sorts, whether high or low, Bishops, Monks, Friers, or of inferiour quality: dissenting judgments ill satisfi'd; some late storms at Sea portend losses, by Shipwrack or contrary Winds: One loss comes in the neck of another; some fear ill returns from Spain and those parts, some are in danger of Pyrats, &c. Many complain of unhappy marriages, &c. There is cause to fear many disgusts or animosities will be near this time amongst great Ladys: The weather very unsettled, the Winds prove contrary to the Merchants expectation, the whole month generally portends ill. Dic quibus in terris: Posthac cum dabitur venia.

DECEMBERS Observations. 1669.

After one or many sad Storms, a gentle or healing time approaches, to the great satisfaction of all parties: Grave persons interested in Publick Affairs, by their prudence and wisdom settle or compose the present differences of the times; and this generally in all Kingdoms; tantum quantum, viz. as much as they can; however their prudence puts things into a more calm posture; for here is signified, bonum esse hominum, & ablationem vel saltem diminutionem gravitatum, viz. the people are generally in a good condition, and many grievances lessened or quite extinguished. Amongst the Grandees of Nations, still there appears grudgings, heart-burnings, frauds, and malecontentedness; amongst the Religious of Kingdoms, of what Order soever, no concordance, no unity or peace; many people scandalize them, and some of themselves give just occasion for it.

Welcome News comes towards the Months end, to the great satisfaction of the industrious Merchant. We conclude, and wish all people to repent, to amend. Multa video, pauca scribo:

THE Elixar Proprietatis, and the perfect use thereof in all or most Diseases, is composed and sold by John Hodgkin Me. L. at the Sign of Vat Helmont in upper Shadwell, where he liveth; and at Mr. Gavells, at the Sign of the Falcon in Westminster-Hall; The Tobacco-Roll and Spur in Turn-style Holborn; and at Mr. John Playfords, Stationer in the Temple; and at Mr. Nevills over against the Globe in Little-Brittain: At these places you may have the Elixar, and a printed Book directing how to take it.

Since my Retirement into the Country, I must confess, I have known this Medicine used with good success against Feavers, Agues, Worms, and many other Distempers: it's an excellent Cordial.

There is newly set forth a large Map of all the Earth, containing in length 10 foot, and in depth 7 foot, wherein the Scituation of many Places are rectified; their Names and the Descriptions underneath, printed in English. Also Globes Celestial and Terrestrial, Spheres Copernican and Ptolemean, with Books for the use of them; and all sorts of Maps, and Sea-Platts, &c. All made and sold by Joseph Moxon, Hydrographer to the Kings most Excellent Majesty, at his Shop in Russel-street, at the Sign of the Atlas.

Physical Considerations of the Matter, Origination, and several Species of Worms: Together with their various Causes, Signs, the horrid Symptoms by them them introduced; as also the Indications, and Method of Cure. All which is Medicinally and Philosophically, Astrologically, and Historically handled. By William Ramsay, Doctor of Physick, and Physician in Ordinary to His Majesty Charles the Second.

Nine Geometrical Exercises for young Sea-men, performing the Doctrine of Triangles, both Plain and Spherical, projecting of the Sphere, and resolving all the most usual Problems in Astronomy, Geography, and Navigation, by Rule and Compass only: By William Leybourn.

Philosophia Maturara, An exact piece of Philosophy, containing the Practick and Operative Part in gaining the Philosophers Stone; with the mean how to make the Mineral Stone, and Calcination of Metals. Published by Lancelot Colson, Doctor in Physick and Chymistry. All to be sold by G. Sawbridge on Clerkenwell Green.

Bemivolio and Urania, a Religious Romance, in six Books; written by Nathaniel Ingelo, D. D. the Second Edition: To which is added, the Interpretation of the hard Names throughout the Book, now printed in the Margin, in Folio.

Ragguagli di Parnasso, or Advertisements from Parnassus, in two Centuries, with the Politick Touchstone; written in Italian by the famous Traiano Boccalini, and Englished by the Earl of Monmouth: the Second Edition corrected, in Folio. Both to be sold by T. Dring, J. Starkey, and T. Bassett, at their Shop in Fleet-street.
